Hard to believe, we will be celebrating our 10th annual Membership and Recognition Dinner on Saturday, November 4th at the U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center. Festivities begin at 6:00 p.m. with a reception, dinner, and program at 7:00 p.m., and throughout the evening a chance to bid on wonderful silent auction items. If you have not visited us lately, USAHEC has opened several new exhibits. In the Hall of the American Soldier, the WWI exhibit, “Good-Bye Broadway, Hello France” is open as well as “On Patrol” in the former lobby area of Ridgway Hall.

With the recent airing of Ken Burns’ Vietnam documentary, remembering those who served during the Vietnam War is important, and this year our awards focus on those who served. Our Living Legend Awardee is Bill Beck who is a great representative of the Enlisted Soldiers. He deployed into Vietnam in 1965 and played a critical role securing the flank of the 1st Battalion, 7th Cavalry during the Battle of the Ia Drang Valley. We will recognize Joe Galloway, military reporter and co-author of We Were Soldiers Once and Young, with the Foundation’s Boots on the Ground Award for his efforts as a United Press International report to tell the story or our Soldiers who served during the War.

We could not have the event here, or present their stories as effectively without the support of our last awardee, Don Mowery of R.S. Mowery & Sons, our design-build contractor for the Visitor and Education Center and our Hall of the American Soldier. The Mowery team will receive the MG John Armstrong Award that recognizes those who support of the Foundation’s efforts in the development of USAHEC. Don and his team have been great partners.

Please consider attending the dinner. You can register for the dinner by calling the Foundation’s office at (717) 258-1102 or by visiting our website at www.armyheritage.org.

This program provides support to the Army Heritage Center Foundation.
In addition to the opening of the new exhibits, the past several months have been ones of change. We said goodbye to COL Peter Crean who had led USAHEC for the past two years. Pete is now the Vice President for Education at the WWII Museum in New Orleans. We wish him the best and hope we will have chances to partner with him in the future. At the same time, we say hello to COL Geoffrey Mangelsdorf, the new USAHEC Director. A great Signal Officer, we look forward to working with him during his tenure. Within our own staff, Amanda Ginter, a mainstay in the Museum Store for the past five years, has moved over into our budget office to replace Courtney Cauthon, and Heidi Nailor is our new Store Manager. Within the Education Department, Jevin Orcutt is now our new Education Assistant. Please welcome them all.

Our biggest news is the Commandant’s approval of the design concept for the Hall of the American Soldier expansion project. We can now proceed with finalizing the plans for the additional 30,000 square feet that the Hall of the American Soldier will add to USAHEC. As currently envisioned, this expansion will add the defining architectural feature to the center, a new gallery space, three multi-purpose rooms, an orientation space, a conference room, and enhanced visitor support services. This expansion will increase the exhibit, conferencing, and education capabilities of the USAHC campus and support larger and more complex programs, Veterans’ events, and public programs. Please help us support this project.

Have a great fall, and remember our Soldiers and their Families as we commemorate Veterans Day and celebrate Thanksgiving, Christmas, and the Holidays.

Executive Director

MEMBERSHIP AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

Our supporters – members and donors – have allowed the Foundation to support the Army and USAHEC in “Telling the Army Story . . . One Soldier at a Time.” We thank you for your support and hope that you will continue to trust us to use your donated funds effectively and efficiently.

SUPPORT OUR FALL APPEAL

Please watch your mailbox for our fall appeal. Your support allows the Foundation to work with the USAHEC staff to build, promote, and enhance the Center and its programs. Together, we can ensure that Soldiers’ stories are preserved and that their role in the Nation’s history is understood.

COMBINED FEDERAL CAMPAIGN AND STATE EMPLOYEE COMBINED APPEALS

The Office of Personnel Management has implemented changes to the Combined Federal Campaign which began in October. Federal and Military Retirees are now eligible to donate through CFC! If CFC is the best option for you, please consider supporting the Army Heritage Center Foundation. We are listed under the Military Support Groups of America federation.

If you are a state employee in California, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Washington, or Wisconsin, please consider supporting the Army Heritage Center Foundation through your state employee combined appeal. Thank you!

VETERANS ORGANIZATIONS SUPPORT OUR VETERANS ORAL HISTORY PROGRAM!

We offer a special thanks to the veteran service organizations which donated funds to support the purchase of a video camera to record our Veteran oral histories. By video recording interviews that we then transfer to USAHEC, the Veterans’ stories can more easily support exhibits, online resources, and programs. Audio-only interviews are valuable historically but are often only used by researchers. Thank you to American Legion Posts 177, 223, 329, 421, 469, 605, 612, 674, 730, 751, and 880; VFW Posts 550, 1213, 1446, 5752, 6704, and 8023; AMVETS Posts 136 and 293, and Vietnam Veterans of America Chapter 542.

EXPANDING SOLDIERS WALK

We are in the midst of extending Soldiers Walk to provide space for additional commemorative bricks. The 8x8 bricks especially have been so popular that we need more space! As we look towards the holiday season, a commemorative brick is a lovely gift to recognize a family member’s or friend’s service. When you purchase a brick, you will receive a certificate which you can give to your honoree. We also now offer thin replica bricks if you would like a physical reminder of your gift.

WELCOME NEW LIFETIME MEMBERS!

Thank you to our new GI (Lifetime) members for their commitment to preserving and sharing the contributions of Soldiers to our Nation’s history. We welcome Anthony “Tony” Manganiello, Ken and Lucy Hicks, and Dawn Halfaker!

ARMY BIRTHDAY DINNER

June 3, 2017

Thank you to everyone who joined us to celebrate the Army’s 242nd birthday at our dinner on June 3. We were pleased to have Cedar Cliff Junior ROTC once again serve as our Color Guard. As we have done in the past, we highlighted an Army tradition, and this year, they described the contents and the significance of the items on the POW/MIA table that is present at many Army sponsored dinners.

At the dinner, we also celebrated the 50th anniversary of the creation of the U.S. Army Military History Institute, USAHEC’s predecessor. Dr. Richard Sommers served as our keynote speaker, and he presented a rich history of MHI from its beginnings as the Military History Research Collection through its transition into USAHEC. We were delighted to have founder Colonel John S. Pappas’ daughters join us for the celebration as well as five past directors of MHI.

CORRECTION

We accidentally omitted Mrs. Marilyn Faith from the list of Charter Members in the 2016 annual report. Our sincere apologies to Mrs. Faith.

LEGACY GIVING

The Foundation recently received a gift from the estate of LTC H. Marguerite Tussey, USA Ret., for which we are sincerely grateful. Colonel Tussey had named the Foundation as a beneficiary of her charitable remainder annuity trust which, upon her death, was dissolved. Her gift will establish a board-designated endowment that over time will grow and enhance the ability of the Foundation to support USAHEC.

Please consider including the Foundation in your estate planning. These gifts can support a specific program, future construction, or the Foundation’s operations. If you prefer, your gift can grow over time as an endowment to provide a constant, reliable source of income for programs. Gifts to the Foundation may support our work or may be designated to support approved programs at USAHEC.

A bequest is one of the simplest ways to make a legacy gift to the Foundation. Sample bequest language is available on our website at www.armyheritage.org under Ways to Give or by contacting us.
We would be delighted to talk with you as you develop your gift plans, especially if you wish to support a specific program at the Foundation or USAHEC. Please call our offices at 717-258-1102.

2018 DINNERS

It is never too early to plan ahead! The Foundation is already looking forward to next year’s membership programs. Our celebration of the Army Birthday is schedule for Saturday, June 2, 2018, and our Membership and Recognition Dinner is planned for November 3, 2018. Please add them to your calendar now.

Education Program Update

The Education Department continues to provide outstanding educational opportunities for students, teachers, and the public through our various educational opportunities. Over the last six months, the staff has worked hard to develop new programs while expanding and improving existing workshops and veteran outreach events.

Within Pennsylvania, the Foundation is assisting in the transition of three NHD in PA Regional Contests to new institutions, as well as providing ongoing support to the remaining nine regions as they implement their programs.

Over the summer months, the Education Department implemented two sessions of the Soldier Experience Living History Adventure Camp on the Army Heritage Trail. The camp curriculum consists of a series of drills and exercises based on Army training manuals from the late Cold War period, modified for safety and practicality. The campers learn small unit tactics, then implement what they have learned through a series of free-form, open-ended exercises. This summer saw the implementation of a new scenario that required the campers to maintain vigilance for OPFOR (Opposing Forces) activity, patrol their area of operations to gather intelligence, interpret what they found to determine enemy intentions, and to react accordingly. This new scenario incorporated Cold War themes and provided a rich storyline for the campers, as well as opportunities to develop their leadership and teamwork skills as they strive for a positive outcome.

Interns and Counselors in Training (CITs) played a critical role in the success of the summer camp program. College intern Arden Staples teamed up with high-school students Michael and Matthew Hickey, interns in the Schools-to-Career Internship Program, to help develop new scenarios and content. All three met throughout the year to help plan the new scenario, including beta testing of new drills and exercises. Mike and Matt returned as Counselors-in-Training for the summer sessions, while Arden served as an aide and OPFOR. They were joined by Mira Bricker, a former camper turned CIT.

The Foundation hosted nearly 1,200 students, teachers, parents, and volunteers at the 2017 National History Day in Pennsylvania State Contest in May at Carlisle High School. The judges selected a delegation of 62 students to move forward to represent Pennsylvania at the National Contest at the University of Maryland in June. Despite a strong field of competitors, Pennsylvania’s students made a strong showing, bringing home a total of four medals including a National Championship. Although PA students made up just over 2% of the students competing in the contest, they received approximately 4.5% of the awards, a success rate that validates and speaks to the strength of the statewide program.

We are also pleased to announce that after four years as a camper, CIT, and Foundation intern, Michael Hickey has begun his Army career as a cadet at Virginia Military Institute. Over the years, Mike has proven himself a dedicated, dependable, and...
Hi everyone — and happy fall from the U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center! As I write this, we have just completed hosting the Carlisle Barracks Oktoberfest, the traditional German salute to fall. This event, with its carnival rides and games, crisp apple cider, and seasonal beverages harkens back to our Army’s long service in Europe that continues even today. Of course, and not to miss any opportunity to educate our visitors, we had several groups of reenactors on the grounds to bring a special interactive education to the event. If you were not able to attend this event, I hope you mark your calendars for our huge spring event, Army Heritage Days, which will be held over Armed Forces Weekend, next May 19 and 20, 2018.

A new Army initiative to support researchers worldwide and the concept of an Army Museum without Walls is the digitization of the archival holdings of USAHEC, and I want to take a moment and share some good news with you. The three contracts essential to the archives digitization project were all successfully awarded using fiscal year 2017 money! Within days, we begin a multi-year project to convert the Army archives — held here at USAHEC — into a high-resolution, digital format easily searchable by the operational force, Army University, researchers, and the public. It also creates an electronic copy of irreplaceable, historically significant materials, ensuring survivability.

We continue our fruitful partnership with Echoes and Reflections, an organization dedicated to Holocaust education, by hosting professional development workshops for teachers. In September, we hosted an event focused on Night by Elie Wiesel. The event featured three special guests: Holocaust survivors Edith Vidos and George Gabor and concentration camp liberator, Army Nurse, and World War II Veteran Dorothy Pecora.

Upcoming events include a Veterans’ Café event at Fort Indiantown Gap, a series of workshops for teachers in partnership with the Capital Area Intermediate Unit and the National Archives, and the resumption of the Veterans’ Oral History Project at Cumberland Valley High School.

Our Educational Programs provide opportunities for Foundation members to get involved with our programs, particularly through the Veterans’ Café, the Veterans’ Oral History Project, and the NHD in PA program. Please contact us if you are interested in participating.

Jeffrey Hawks
Education Director
Beyond support to the operational force, this effort directly restores a connection with the American public through education about our Army and its history. It will inform, excite, and inspire people. Technologically, it keeps us on the leading edge of historical institutions with online resources. A lot of hard work by many dedicated folks over the last year made this amazing feat possible. I truly believe we can make the history of our Army accessible to every American with an internet connection!

We’re constantly growing and changing here at the U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center. If you have not been here recently, you must come visit the latest art exhibit “An American in Paris: War, Soldier Morale, and the Y.M.C.A” as well as our World War I exhibit “Good-Bye Broadway, Hello France.” We continue to improve the outdoor experience on the Army Heritage Trail. Several large artifacts, including the AH-1 Cobra attack helicopter, have been restored and repainted. This month, we start construction on a wooden guard tower that adds to the Vietnam-era experience while giving children a place to climb and burn off energy.

Thanks to each of you for your continued support of the Army Heritage Center Foundation. Your generous donations make it possible for us to keep growing in new directions with exhibits, facilities, and a campus dedicated to honoring Soldiers, their memories, and their experiences. Through that, we are able to Tell the Army Story... one Soldier at a Time.

USAHEC Divisions Updates

U.S. ARMY WAR COLLEGE LIBRARY

In June, we welcomed Ms. Adria Olmi as the Supervisory Librarian of Research and Instruction. She joins us from the Soldier Support Institute at Fort Jackson and has 20 years of experience in academic and military libraries.

Our Library team has been hard at work on the conservation of our rare book collection, cataloging materials, making them available to our users, answering research questions, and providing resource tutorials to U.S. Army War College students. The Library has also taken on a new mission to provide resources to the Army Strategic Education Program (ASEP) and is interfacing with the program leads to assess the levels of support we can provide for General Officers.

The USAWC Library made a significant design change to its website, by aligning user needs with the site organization and integrating a more mobile-friendly design. In addition to the interface redesign, we have added a polling capability to receive user feedback at the point of service on the website.

MILITARY HISTORY INSTITUTE (MHI)

MHI’s three branches: Archives, Oral History, and Classified Records have further integrated efforts in preparation for a concerted project to digitize the collection’s vast array of documents, photographs, audio/visuals, and digital materials. We work closely with the other divisions, especially Collections Management and the USAWC Library.

The Archives Branch continues to make collections available to researchers more quickly, through the adoption of new processing techniques. A prominent example is the Paul Bates Collection. Bates was a veteran of the largely African-American 761st Tank Battalion and his collection was previously untouched, but prepared in such a way that researchers were able to have access to it within two weeks of submission of their requests.

The Manuscript Processing Section continues to carry out its remarkably kaleidoscopic juggling act of tasks and priorities, including collection processing and assistance with researchers’ visits. In major collection processing efforts, the Lt. Gen. Harold G. Moore Collection has received a higher level of arrangement and description in anticipation of major research interest upon its completion.

The Audio/Visual Section answers a variety of requests for information and creates unique products, including short films using footage from the USAHEC Collection. The section leader, John Kurash, recently submitted America’s Last Five-Star General: Omar Nelson Bradley to the 2017 Normandie-World War II International Film Festival in Bayeux, achieving runner-up.

The Digital Management and Services Section (DMS) has been very busy in preparing for digitization. The envisioned pilot program will provide DMS with valuable metrics and feedback on how to tailor digitization processes to accomplish most effectively and efficiently the overall goal of making USAHEC’s archival holdings broadly accessible.

The Oral History Branch continues to make great strides in publishing a range of oral histories in the Senior Officer Oral History Program (SOOHP) and Division Commander Lessons Learned (DCLL). In 2017, the Branch published a variety of Oral Histories, including General George Casey, 36th Chief of Staff of the U.S. Army, and CW4 Lewis E. Ney, who was interviewed at 97 years old about his military career that started in 1922 as a horse cavalryman in the 3rd Cavalry Regiment.

Finally, MHI has a new division chief, James D. Scudieri. He holds a Ph.D. with a major in military history and minor in British history from the Graduate School and University Center, City University of New York (CUNY), and previously served thirty years on active duty with the Army as a career logistician. Before his move to MHI, he was the Senior Historian in Historical Services Division.

COLLECTIONS MANAGEMENT

The Collections Management (CM) Division of USAHEC is once again realigned as a Division of USAHEC, due to its mission of preservation, conservation, and accountability for the entire USAHEC Collection. The team includes the Acquisitions Branch, which provides procurement and contract support for USAHEC activities, the Registrar and his staff, who manage accountability and gifts of collections materials, and the Conservation Staff, who are responsible for preservation and conservation of historical materials.

Currently, the CM staff is working with the Center of Military History to transfer archival materials from select museums within the Army Museum Enterprise. A team recently traveled to the Old Guard Museum at Fort Myer and took in documents, books, audio visual materials, and photographs for the USAHEC Collection.

CM is also working with the Archives and the Library to acquire a new integrated system that will help manage USAHEC collections as well as serve as the public interface for its materials. This system will allow for the tracking of collections materials from initial acquisition through processing until the point it becomes available to the public. It will also allow for better management of inventories and the tracking of conservation efforts.

USAHEC recently acquired historic material created or used by Ernie Pyle during his time as a U.S. Army War Correspondent during World War II. Included with this large collection are notebooks used by Pyle in taking notes for his articles and tracking expenses along with his Aviator Sunglasses and signature Beret.

General (Ret.) Frederick M. Franks, Jr. also donated the M1911A1 he carried during his service in Vietnam. This compliments his papers, photographs, and other artifacts already in the USAHEC Collection.

The diary of Joseph R. Neaves, a Trooper from Troop K, 3rd Cavalry Regiment relating to his service during the Plains Indian Wars 1883-1893 was also donated. The diary details U.S. Army life in the Oklahoma and Arizona Territories and discussed the uprising of the Cheyenne and the Sioux Indian Campaign in the Kansas and Nebraska territories. There are also entries detailing his experiences in the Garza Campaign.

VISITOR AND EDUCATION SERVICES (VES)

As always, USAHEC provides an array of programming throughout the year, including the monthly and quarterly lecture series, living history programs, and recognition and commemorative events. In April, we hosted the Paper Modelers, as they displayed their handiwork of intricate, paper models of military vehicles! In May, our Perspectives in Military History Lecture featured Dr. Brian Linn as he explored the celebrity side of the U.S. Army in his lecture entitled, “Elvis’s Army: Cold War GIs and the Atomic Battlefield.” In August, Mr. James Scott presented, “Target Tokyo: Jimmy Doolittle and the Raid that Avenged Pearl Harbor,” for the quarterly Brooks E. Kleber Memorial Lecture. There are many more events to look forward to as we enter fall, including a special Perspectives Lecture by Mr. T.J. Stiles on “Custer’s Leadership,” which celebrates the 50th Anniversary of this lecture series on October 18, a presentation by the ever popular Red Blanket Native Pride Dancers in celebration of Native American Heritage Month on November 9, and a Veterans Day Commemoration event in the World War I Trench on the Army Heritage Trail, on November 11 and 12.

USAHEC is proud to announce a new resource for students and teachers who do not live near the facility. The Educators’ Toolbox is available on the website and features a collection of lesson plans, primary source documents, and information about USAHEC and professional development opportunities. The information is free and available to any educator.

Our servicemen and women benefit from USAHEC programs and resources as well. Our Education Coordinator has provided more than a dozen battlefield staff rides, as well as specialized education programs to groups such as the Special Forces Warrant Officers Technical and Tactical Certification Course. These experiences are a hands-on way to learn about U.S. Army history and also help create informed leaders.

Army Heritage Days returned again this year and featured armored vehicles traversing our very own tank course. Drivers put their vehicles to the test as the crowd watched them dodge obstacles, make tight turns, and roll over rough terrain. Tanks were the talk of the event, which drew a record-breaking crowd – more than 10,000 visitors! We look forward to breaking that number next year! Beyond the living history at Army Heritage Days, USAHEC hosts more than 2,300 students every spring, as they learn about life as a Soldier during eight different periods of American history. Learning about the lives of Soldiers throughout U.S. history provides students with a unique understanding of our country’s involvement in each war and the history of the U.S. Army Soldier.

VES staff members are also making their way across the country to help spread the word about USAHEC and the resources available to the public and Veterans. Providing information about our newly launched online Educators’ Toolbox was the focus for USAHEC staff at the National Council for History Education Annual Conference and the National Council on Public History Annual Meeting. This past summer, the staff spoke with hundreds of Veterans about our Veteran Surveys and Veterans Ambassador Program at the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Convention and the Vietnam Veterans of America National Convention. Staff also attended the American Association for State and Local History Annual Meeting to interface with other museum professionals. Additionally, our Outreach Coordinator is collaborating with news stations across the country, further raising awareness of the resources available at USAHEC.

contemporary issues. Dr. Michael Lynch deployed to Iraq in May for three weeks to study actions in Operation Inherent Resolve (OIR) and to collect data in the form of oral histories and documents. In addition, Dr. Lynch represents USAWC on the Mosul Study Group, which was established to study Operation Inherent Resolve.

HSD’s research and USAHEC’s resources remain in great demand, and the division supported several requirements from senior leaders, including providing historical data on the World War II Victory Plan to the Secretary of the Army, completing a short history describing the development of the Army’s World War II uniform, known as the “Pinks and Greens,” for the Army G4, and providing historical research and editing support to Army Public Affairs for a new hallway display at the Pentagon.

In addition to research, the team maintains a heavy schedule of teaching, conferences, publishing, and committee work. Dr. Con Crane presented seminars to current and future Army leaders on the future soldier’s physical attributes and taught seminars about his counterinsurgency expertise at the Joint Flag Officer Warfighting Course and at the Naval War College. Among a myriad of support to USAWC, Dr. Lynch works with the Center for Strategic Leadership on several projects related to mobilization, including several wargames. Dr. Crane represented USAWC at the Department of the Army Historical Advisory Subcommittee, which meets annually to provide recommendations to the Secretary of the Army on history in professional military education. In addition, he has lectured on the “Myths of WWII” at the Marshall Foundation, “Building Strategic Airpower” at the Military Classics Seminar, and his own book, Cassandra in Oz, at the Heritage Foundation in Washington, DC. Dr. Crane conducted an interview as part of a Netflix series on World War II and an interview with MHK-TV (Japanese television) on fire bombing in Japan. He was also honored to be invited to present a short introduction to the film Dunkirk for the film’s premiere at the Arts Initiative of the Ben Franklin Global Forum. Dr. Crane and Dr. Lynch also chaired and commented on panels at the Society for Military History Conference.

Finally, Dr. Lynch’s manuscript, “‘Sic ‘Em, Ned’: Edward M. Almond and the Army of His Times, 1916-1953,” a biography of the Commanding General, X Corps and former Commandant, USAWC, has been accepted for publication at the University Press of Kentucky.

With all of this going on at USAHEC, we are looking forward to a very exciting finish to the year! For more information on any of our programs, events, or resources, please contact us through our website, www.usahec.org or at 717-245-3972.

and outdoor exhibit areas. An American in Paris: War, Soldier Morale, and the Y.M.C.A. is the latest art exhibit to open at USAHEC, and is on display until May 20, 2018. It features the artwork of Milton Herbert Bancroft, who was recruited by the Y.M.C.A. to serve as one of the chiefs of decoration that oversaw the designing of Soldier relief “huts” in World War I. In addition to the Art Gallery, USAHEC further commemorates the centennial of World War I with Good-Bye Broadway, Hello France, which runs through November 11, 2019. Be sure to visit this outstanding exhibit, which showcases the blend of material from the USAHEC Collection into the landscape of the battlefield.

New artifacts were recently installed in the Treasures of USAHEC exhibit, including an original 2nd Infantry Division shoulder sleeve insignia, and then-Captain Colin L. Powell’s student paper, prepared at the Advanced Officers Training Course at Ft. Benning, Georgia in 1964. In addition to those artifacts on display indoors, preservation of the large artifacts on the Army Heritage Trail is an ongoing effort. All 13 pieces on display on the trail have been cleaned and repainted over the past few years.

Finally, the Army Heritage Museum welcomes Ms. Molly Bompane, who joins the team as the Curator of Arms and Ordnance. She returns to USAHEC after serving more than four years as the Chief Curator for U.S. Army Europe.
