WORLD WAR II-Allied Control Commission

Only brief mention of the commission in Hungary appears in numerous pubs on Allied mil govt. As examples, see indexes in these books:

Holborn, Hajo. American Military Government. Wash, DC: Inf Jrnl, 1947. 243 p. D802.A2.H6.

The American representative on the commission was Major General William S. Key, CG, 45th Infantry Division. See his obituary, New York Times (7 Jan 1959).

WORLD WAR II-Recovery of Hungarian Crown Jewels, 1945

The U.S. 86th Infantry Division recovered the Hungarian crown jewels at the end of World War II. On 4 May 1945 342nd Infantry Regiment's anti-tank company liberated the Austrian town of Mattsee and captured the erstwhile Nazi minister of Hungary, his staff, and the Crown of St Stephen. Captain R.L. Green, Nashville, TN, commanded the anti- tank company. See:

U.S. Seventh Army. Headquarters, G-2. "G-2 History: Seventh Army Operations in Europe." n.p. 1945. Pt X. p. 11. #03-7.1945.

According to Order of Battle, United States Army World War II: European Theater of Operations, Divisions, prepared by the Theater Historian (Paris, Dec 1945), p. 311, the commanding officer of the 342nd Infantry was Colonel Pete T. Heffner, Jr., and the commanding general of the 86th Division was Major General Harris M. Melasky. Captain Kalford K. Miazza was Acting Assistant Chief of Staff G-5 at the time of the crown's capture and presumably would have been initially responsible for its disposition.
